

By the arrival on Monday last, of the clipper ship Floing Eagle, Captain Walden, in 13 days from San Francisco, we have four days later news (telegr.) from the American seat of war, or to August 18th; from San Francisco to August 19th, and from Europe to August 8, telegraphic.

The Speedwell was to leave on the 24th August, for

The American war news are assuming a curiously complex appearance. There are numerous accounts of detached skirmishes, or battles between small parties, apparently fighting on their own hook, and in which the Federals are invariably victorious; but, strange to say, it would seem that now, after eighteen months of preparation, with-so they say-7 or 800,000 men under arms, they almost always are in a great minority whenever a battle or a skirmish occurs, and are fighting constantly against overwhelming odds. But leaving the small episodes out of question, their great armees rangees, though fighting with the most heroic bravery, seem of late to have been wanting in the element of luck, or rather been trusting too much to luck, and thus neglected the well-known maxim of Frederick the Great, that "God favored the strongest battalions." The campaign of the York peninsula has apparently ended by being outnumbered and outflanked by the rebels; and although it was said that General McClellan had changed his position before Richmond, in the face of an attacking enemy, with admirable skill, yet even the new position has been rendered untenable, and McClellan had, by last dates, removed his army, partly by land to Williamsburg, 60 miles from Richmond, and partly by embarking on transports bound down the James river, though their ultimate destination is not yet known. At any rate, Richmond has a respite, but whether short or long will probably depend upon the manner in which Gen. Pope disposes of the ubiquitous rebel Gen. Jackson, who, though he did not prevent the junction of Banks with Pope at Cedar Mountain, still handled the former so severely as to gain ample time to reinforce and prepare himself to oppose their passage of the Rapidan, where probably by this time another severe battle has been fought. From the Southwest nothing of great importance. Breckinridge had been repulsed from Baton Rouge, but was myth; Charleston was building two iron-clad gunand Missouri, the guerillas were hunted pretty closely dicted the thing at once. We think the account pretty correct. For some three weeks previous, no reporters, largely, however the premium on gold may advance. civilians or any of that ignobile genus, had been permitted within McClellan's lines; a week previous the Virginia, that the James river was full of transports, important movements' were preparing in McClellan's army, and on the 14th they gave as a rumor that he was moving portions of his force by land, and portions by water, to some point on the Rappahannock; and on the 16th we are told that his advance had arrived at Williamsburg, 60 miles from Richmond, and that the rest were embarked from Harrison's Landing, and that all the property had been safely removed. Editorially, some of the San Francisco journals endeavor to explain these facts by surmising that McClellan is only removing to the south shore of James river, so as to attack Richmond by the rear, while Pope is expected to be thundering at the front gates. Why McClellan should march 60 miles down the river, in order to cross it, and then march 60 miles back again on the other shore, when with his immense fleet he might have crossed where he was, is not easy to discover. And between Pope and Richmond there happens to be a Rebel General called Stonewall Jackson, who seems to be full as active, though less noisy, than Gen. Pope. The next mail will probably set all this guessing aright, and we shall know both where McClellan has gone to and the result of the impending battle of the regard at Chattanoga with 70,000 men.

We clip the following:

Gen. Pope officially reports the Federal loss at the battle of Cedar Mountain at 1,500 killed, wounded and the enemy's loss in killed and wounded will much ex-

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 .- Those who ought to know deny that any change of McClellan's army from the l'eninsula has occurred, and he is still at headquarters with his command.

New York, Aug. 14 .- Advices from Port Royal state that the negro brigade has proved a failure, and has been disbanded. Fugitive contrabands at Port Royal had stated that there were only 2,000 rebels at Savannah. It is also said that the ram there was a mere floating battery of little power, and with but eight guns. Its officers were afraid to go out of Savannah The rebels are known to be in strong force on James and Dawfuskee Islands.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 15 .- Information which has been received from Southeastern Tennessee, but not, however, considered reliable, indicates that a move is being made against Gen. Buell. Beauregard is reported to be at Chattanooga, co-operating with Bragg, and their combised force is said to be not less than 70,000 men.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 .- The Charleston Courier of the 1st inst., has a dispatch from Richmond, dated July 29th, which says: The opinion gains ground here that Gen. McClellan is gradually evacuating his position at Berkley, and reinforcing Gen. Pope with the bulk of his army. The number of Yankee transports in James river is immense, and great activity is observable among last three or four days that McClellan's army had left the Peninsula are untrue. Military matters, therefore, assume a profoundly mixed appearance.

Rebel troops in considerable numbers were seen last tions 486, including the sick left behind, and not one evening and this morning on the south side of the James river. One of our returned prisoners says that marching off in the same direction.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—From the Peninsula corres-pondent of the N. Y. Times, we learn that Gen. McClellan was engaged during the past week in with- lost.- Echo du Pacifique. drawing from Harrison's Landing a body, moving by land towards Williamsburg, and on the James river in transports. The place of destination is of course not known, though conjecture mentions Aquia Creek, Fredericksburg, Urbana, and points on the York river. WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—A special dispatch to the New York papers says that Thurlow Weed will sail for FORTRESS MONROE, Aug. 16 .- Several transports arrived during the night from Harrison's Landing, with sick and wounded soldiers aboard. One hundred cavalry drove in the Union pickets last night, and some little excitement prevails there to-day on that account.

Second Dispatch.—The Union troops evacuated Harrison's Landing at 8 o'clock this morning, and about the same time McClellan's advance arrived at Williams burg. The public property was all removed. All quiet New York, Aug. 18 .- A letter from Baton Rouge says the ram Arkansas grounded at a distance of six miles from the city, on the 6th, and was engaged by the Federal gunboat Essex in a fair stand-up fight. Capt. W. D. Porter, commander of the Essex, lay three hundred yards distant from the Arkansas, pouring solid 9-inch shot into her until a breach was made, when an incendiary shell exploded in the breach, setting her on fire. The rebel crew then left, and she shortly

A New York correspondent, speaking of " the third aprising" of the Loyal States and a grand mass meeting in New York city says:

The enthusiasm was unbounded and was greatly stimulated by the course of the President in vetoing the general emancipation bill, and the bill of the radicals in Congress to arm the negroes, both of which are distateful to the mass of the loyal people. The Crittenden resolutions that the war was only waged for the suppression of the rebellion and to restore the integrity of the Union and Constitution, were unanimously reaffirmed. Abolitionism received a check which the radicals will not soon forget. Places of business were closed and the demands of the crisis upon all freely assented to. During the meeting those three arch radicals, General Fremont -who is now trying to get a third command-Wendell Phillips and Horace Greely, made their appearance simultaneously on one of the stands and were terribly hissed, with repeated cries from the populace not to add their names to the long lists of Vice Presidents of the meeting. They were not long there, but quietly dropped out of sight.

The watering places are excessively dull this season. Landlords are complaining that they are losing money. No wonder: most of our butterflies of fashion have fled to Europe, to visit the International Exhibition, and splurge in Paris and Baden, till the war excitement is over. The Great Eastern, now a fixed success, sails again on Wednesday, with a perfect avalanche of passongers, and the other European steamers depart with more than they can comfortably accommodate.

Speaking of McClellan's movements the Alta Califor-

From the Peninsula, some of the fog which has enveloped McClellan's movements has been dispelled. He has evacuated Harrison's Landing, and his advance has arrived at Williamsburg between the James and York rivers, sixty miles east of Richmond. What this movement really portends we can assign no definite purport until it becomes further developed. It must suffice to bother the thousands of busy pens which daily di-cuss the war all over the country. The rebels are of the opinion that West Point is the place to which he is mov-If, however, he should concentrate the whole of our force on the northern line, and in that order bear down upon Richmond, the road for the escape of the rebels, in the event of defeat, into South Carolinn and Georgia, is opened up to them in the most inviting manner. On the contrary, if McClellan should make a sudden move of his forces from his new position to the south of Richmond, and Pope should achieve a victory over Jackson, the whole rebel force, ultimately, would be driven down the peninsula, and forced to surrender. The money article in a New York paper says:

The bullion which is being shipped to Europe does not come out of the banks, but from private hands. still encamped in the neighborhood. Vicksburg and Most, if not all, of the banks decline to sell specie at any Mobile had not yet been taken ; Savannah continued a rate of premium, deeming their specie reserve to be a special lund entrusted to them for the benefit of their depositors, which they have no right to sell for the boats, and the negro colony at Port Royal had proved benefit of their stockholders. Hence, in some degree, a fizzle and been abandoned. In Tennessee, Kentucky the high premium on gold. It is not unlikely, however, unless startling and decisive triumphs should be achieved by the Union arms. that gold will decline with bills. Gold has risen not so Richmond papers noticed that McClellan was shipping much in consequence of the export inquiry as from the a portion, if not more, of his army to the Northeast of distrust prevailing at home, which has induced a large number of merchants and bankers to hoard. So long as the war lasts and the result remains undetermined. and great activity prevailed; previous to the 14th of this tendency will continue to exist. It is therefore by August, the New York journals announced that "very no means unlikely that we may witness a gradual decline in the price of exchange, accompanied by a steady or even an advancing market for gold.

European The London Times editorially argues: If England wishes to give the Federalists a new impulse, she has but to take some steps which can be represented as interference, and Lincoln will soon get his 300,000 men, and thus indefinitely postpone the chances of peace. In another article the Times points to Earl Russell's letter relative to Federal cruisers in the Bahaimas, and to show that the Federals have not done justice to England's forbearance.

The Daily News anticipates if the cotton dearth will last to Christmas, Parliamentary provisions for the relief of the distress occasioned will not suffice to meet the emergency. Lord Str. theden had moved for the correspondence with Mr. Mason relative to the acknowledged Government of the Southern States. Earl Russell said that all communications with that gentleman had been unofficial. He also stated that no communication had been received from any foreign Power relative to the recognition of the Southern States.

Lord Malmesbury suggested that the Government should communicate with other Powers, with the view of offering mediation if a favorable opportunity arises. Earl Russell agrees that it was desirable, if mediation be offered, that all the Powers should join in it.

From Italy, we learn that Garibaldi had issued a proclamation in spirited terms, urging the young men to arms; and Victor Emanuel had issued a counter proclamation denouncing revolutionary schemes, and threatening the rigor of the law on those disobeying. He declared that he himself would move in the matter of Rome at the fitting time. These events had attracted missing, of whom 290 were taken prisoners; and says great attention towards Italy. The English journals generally regret Garibaldi's course. A rumor was current in Madrid that Murat is intended to be King of Mexico.

THE BASES OF MEDIATION TO BE OFFERED .- The Independence Belge states that the principal bases of mediation which the two great maritime powers propose to offer at Washington and at Richmond are, viz. : The retention of Kentucky, Tennessee and Arkansas by the North, but a distinct dissolution of the Union as regards the other Seceding States; no custom-houses by land between the two Confederations, and the South is to engage itself to ameliorate the condition of the slaves in such a manner as to prepare their emancipation the most rapidly possible. These bases will no doubt receive the approbation of the Government at Richm and, and if the North refuses every arrangement-which is almost certain to happen-then France will propose to England to come to an understanding upon the recognition of the Southern Confederation. Several of the French journals, more or less authentic, take the same view .- Echo du Pacifique.

TELEGRAPH VERACITY .- Every one remembers that when the taking of Island No. 10, in the Mississippi, The Times' Washington dispatch says: Mr. Seward was announced by telegraph Gen. Pope was said to stated last evening that the reports published for the have taken 6,000 prisoners, 100 heavy guns and 6,000 muskets, without the loss of a man. Meeting of the Citizens of Honolulu-At a meeting of the citizens of Honolulu, at Thursday noon last, Capt. B. F. Snow in the Chair, and J W. Austin, Secretary, a committee, consisting of Messrs. W. L. Green, J. Montgomery, W. A. Aldrich, R. G. Davis and N. S. Haleole, was appointed to draft an address of sympathy and condolence with their Majesties the King and Queen, upon the demise of their only son, H. R. H. Albert Edward Kauikeaouli Leiopapa a Kamehameha, Prince of Hawaii, and report the following day. Yesterday at noon, the adjourned meeting convened again, when the address, which we print in another column, was unanimously adopted, and Messrs. W. L. Green, E. O. Hall, Major Moehonua and Mr. Moku were appointed to present the same to their Majesties through H. R. H. Prince L. Kame

Labaina. We have received the following letter, which speaks for itself:

LAHAINA, Sept. 3, 1862. DEAR SIR :- A public meeting was held this day, It the Court House, Judge Hutchison presiding, call for the purpose of expressing the deep sorrow felt by the residents of Lahaina district for their Majesties the King and Queen, in their severe affliction, occasioned by the death of H. R. H., Prince Albert of Hawaii. Suitable addresses have been forwarded to His Majesty, and all mourn most sincerely that so early in life our beloved Prince has been called away from earthly scenes. Very truly yours,

FRIDAY, SEPT. 5, 1869. Since our last report of the market, business has been unusually dull, and we cannot look for any improvement before the first of next month, when we may expect the arrival of some of our merchant vessels, and the near approach of what we in former years called the season. It is true we hear but little said about the Fall business, but it is equally true that we have always kept and still have a certain class of merchandise, suitable for refitting ships, and more especially for those engaged in the whaling business; and just so long as they continue to visit our port, will the necessary supplies be found forthcoming. We do not hesitate to say that our port is to-day better adapted to repairing or refitting whale ships than any other in the Pacific We have men among us of large experience in the business, and who are prepared to suit the times. All kinds of provisions can be had at very different rates from former years: Hawaiian beet of superior quality at from $10@$12, and none can be found better for short voyages; Flour, equal to the best California, 58 @89; and Bread manufactured from the same, equal to the best New Bedford, from 5c@7c, and any quantity of old craft and other fixings, which every vessel is more or less in want of, to be had for almost nothing. And another very important fact is, that experienced officers and men can always be had without causing any unnecessary delay, and owners may rest assured that if they have placed careful and prudent men in command of their vessels, the necessary funds will be furnished at very reasonable rates. It is true, we have not heretofore been called to disburse to American vessels under like circumstances, but our business men are fully posted up with the times, and but few know better who the owners are and where they live.

The clipper ship War Hawk sailed on Friday last for Hongkong, taking a small quantity of fungus, some specie and about 700 barrels of Hawaiian flour. This is the first shipment by the Hawaiian Steam Flour Co., and we understand that they intend making a further shipment by the Speedwell. The flour is of a have no doubt but that the adventure will prove remunerative to the enterprising Company.

The schr. J. B. Ford also sailed on the 29th for Shanghae, under command of Capt. D. L. Babcock, where she will be disposed

The bark Yankee will sail for San Francisco on Saturday week the 13th, with a full freight no doubt, as quite a large quantity of paddy is coming forward, of quite an improved quality we learn. We give here the remarks of the San Francisco Bulletin of August 16th, in reference to some of our former shipments : "We are informed that some of the late importations of Paddy from the Sandwich Islands proved to have been prematurely harvested, it having been cut too green; so that on sending it to the rice mills for cleaning and prepairing for the market, it is found to be very brittle and of a dark blue color, rendering it quite unsaleable at anything like the usual price of best samples of Carolina. Some of the late importation of Sandwich Island cleaned sold at 11c 2 fb in bags, equal to 12c in bbls."

We notice but little change in San Francisco markets. Cotton goods, bagging, tobacco and naval stores had an upward ten-In domestic trade we have but few sales to report,
